Montrouge, 7 April 2016

Appointment

Eric Baudson has been appointed Group Information Systems Officer, reporting to Pascal Céliér, Deputy Managing Director of Crédit Agricole S.A., in charge of Operations and Transformation. This appointment will take effect from 9 May 2016. He will join Crédit Agricole S.A.'s Extended Executive Committee.

Brief resume

Eric Baudson's career started with Banque Indosuez, where he worked initially in its Internal Audit department (1991-1997) before joining the corporate network (1997-2000), of which he became deputy head in 1999. In 2000, he moved to Société Générale as Worldwide Manager of the Equity Derivatives Middle Office, then Worldwide Manager of Equity Derivatives Operations. From 2005 to 2012, he was Worldwide Manager of Crédit Agricole CIB's IT and back-office operations and an Executive Committee member.

Since January 2013, Eric Baudson has been head of the IT & Digital practice at Boston Consulting Group's Paris office.

Currently 48 years old, Eric Baudson holds a degree in agricultural engineering (Montpellier - 1989) and a specialised master's degree in financial techniques from ESSEC (1990).
